

Professional Development Conference

The Lifelong Learning Entitlement (LLE), May 15th 2024, 9.45 - 15.35

Online (Zoom)

- 9.45 Sign-in and Welcome
- 10.00 WONKHE - What's all this about the LLE, then?
Everything we know so far about the Westminster government's plan for a lifelong learning entitlement - and everything that still needs to be sorted
- 10.50 Comfort Break
- 11.05 UCAS - How can UCAS support the LLE?
Carolyn Mindos - Principal Admissions Reform Lead and Philippa Alway - Senior Policy Advisor, UCAS
Carolyn and Philippa from UCAS will be discussing UCAS's plans to support the roll-out of LLE from 2025 entry; join this session to gain insight on UCAS developments, alongside insight on to potential types of LLE learners and how UCAS are engaging with teachers and advisors to raise awareness of the opportunities that the LLE can bring. There will be an opportunity to ask questions and engage with UCAS to support future resource development.
- 12.00 Blackbullion - How to financially prepare students for the real cost of student life
Hear from Vivi Friedgut, the founder and CEO of Blackbullion, focussing on how to financially prepare applicants for the real cost of student life. Blackbullion hosts an online platform for students that's focus is digital financial education. The platform conveys its fundamental belief - we want to make the world a better place by making it money-smart.
- 12.50 Lunch
- 13.35 University Panel
Hear from various universities around the UK on how they are preparing for the changes associated with LLE. You'll also have the chance to listen to their views on the changes and how it will impact their institutions.
- 14.35 Comfort Break

14.50

Breakout Sessions

Attendees will be split into breakout rooms to really get their teeth into discussing the earlier sessions of the day. A great opportunity to network and digest the day's material

15.35

Finish