Over to You!

- 1) Come up with your own event which would fit with your department or overall university which would require employers to be present at it
- 2) Think about how you would sell this to the employers, getting them to agree to attend- how would you show off your institution to get them to come? Do you think you would experience any challenges with working with or trying to get employers to attend?

10-15 minutes to create, and 10 minutes to feedback
